

I am concerned about the FCC's decision to review laws limiting media concentration across different forms of media and by the maximum percentages of national viewers for cable companies. I strongly believe that a centralization of media ownership will result in reduced diversity and accuracy of information.